

1915

The sleeping porch on the south side of the lodge was enlarged to 15' x 22' and a root house was built this year.

Joining the membership this year were Gordon M. McGregor, Alex B. Peddie and Percy Jell.

Serving as cook and camp help was Mr. & Mrs. Bunn.

Formal attire was a must for traveling days.

Side trips from the Camp were quite common...

and the ladies loved to go along as well.

A good catch made for a good meal.

After eating, what else?
A nap!

Greg with a typical catch

Heading out again.

Porch time.

